

Rev It Up for Green Renovation Program

Frequently Asked Questions for Customers

The Rev It Up for Green Renovation Program is a promotion that provides customers with tools necessary to deliver on green and energy retro-fit design demands. When combined with Autodesk's industry-leading BIM tools, Autodesk® Ecotect® Analysis and Autodesk® Green Building Studio® software, you get creative freedom combined with the tools to analyze, visualize and simulate real-world appearance, performance, and cost for green building renovation and energy retrofit projects. BIM enables sustainable design. By combining Revit® software, our premiere BIM offering, with our sustainable solutions - you can Rev It Up for Green Renovation.

Customers purchasing either AutoCAD® Revit® Architecture Suite or Autodesk® Revit® MEP Suite new licenses, cross-grades, or Autodesk® Subscription renewals will have the option to add Ecotect Analysis for only $995. Subscription for Autodesk Ecotect Analysis is required to be eligible for the promotional price and provides access to Autodesk Green Building Studio.

1. What is the Rev It Up for Green Renovation Program?

Beginning November 30, 2009 through April 18, 2010 customers will have the option to purchase an Autodesk Ecotect Analysis 2010 license for $995 (Commercial Suggested Retail Price) when purchased with a qualifying AutoCAD Revit Architecture Suite or AutoCAD Revit MEP Suite new license, cross-grade, or subscription renewal.

Subscription for Autodesk Ecotect Analysis is required to be eligible for promotional pricing. Autodesk Ecotect Analysis subscription includes the Autodesk Green Building Studio web service, which helps architects and designers to conduct whole building energy analysis, optimize performance and efficiency, and achieve carbon neutrality earlier in the design process.

2. What are the qualifying products to be eligible for the discounted Autodesk Ecotect Analysis?

Customers will be eligible to purchase discounted Ecotect Analysis 2010 software when combined with:

- AutoCAD® Revit® Architecture Suite
  - New Licenses
  - Cross-grades
  - Subscription Renewal
  - Retroactive Subscription

OR
